Online Scheduling: Email alerts for new incoming appointments

Get email alerts when patients request an appointment using your Online Scheduling tool! Practices currently receive a notification on the RW Portal Dashboard, but now, receive an email when you patients request an appointment. With this update, staff members who have opted into Alerts in their communication preferences will receive an email for each incoming request with a link to the appointment in the calendar where they can accept/decline. Stay on top of your incoming appointments and easily manage your schedule with this new alert enhancement.
